BACK IN GOTHAM

THIS TIME WITH A NEW TEAM

It's a brand-new day for Batman... and a new nightmare for Gotham City! Two new forces of evil — Two-Face, formerly known as District Attorney Harvey Dent, and the Riddler, who was previously Edward Nygma, an overworked employee of Wayne Enterprises — join together to destroy their arch-enemy, Batman, and overtake the minds of all who live in Gotham.

Meanwhile, Batman's alter ego, Bruce Wayne, has troubles of his own. Nightmares involving the tragedy that made him a crusader against crime continue to haunt him. He is attracted to a beautiful criminal psychiatrist, Dr. Chase Meridian, but she's more fascinated by the striking figure of Batman. It's a romantic triangle... involving just two people.

But this time the Dark Knight won't have to fight his battles alone. Now he has a partner at his side. Dick Grayson is a young acrobat and member of the Flying Graysons. But when his family is killed, he becomes galvanized by the tragedy. Now he is reborn into a life of heroism — as Robin.

AN ALL NEW CAST

In BATMAN FOREVER, Batman is played by Val Kilmer, Chris O'Donnell is Robin, and Nicole Kidman is Dr. Chase Meridian. Some familiar faces return to the screen in BATMAN FOREVER, and some new ones make their debut. Police Commissioner James Gordon (Pat Hingle) remains one of Batman's staunchest allies, while faithful butler Alfred Pennyworth (Michael Gough) must make room for Dick Grayson, the new resident of Wayne Manor.

But don't forget the villains in BATMAN FOREVER. Making their feature film debut: Two-Face (Tommy Lee Jones) and the Riddler (Jim Carrey). They are aided in their nefarious plans by Two-Face's bad-girl gun molls Sugar and Spice (Drew Barrymore and Debi Mazar).

BATMAN'S WORLD

Some of the fantastic locales in BATMAN FOREVER include the legendary Batcave, home to the all-new Batmobile, Batwing, and Batboat; Claw Island, where the Riddler runs his brain-draining operations; Two-Face's hideout, marvelously split in two to reflect the two sides of his mad personality; the Gotham City Circus, where the Flying Graysons face their fates; and of course, Gotham itself, the most mysterious and spectacular city on earth.

As Gotham City is beset by a crime wave masterminded by Two-Face and the Riddler, Batman and Robin race to battle their deadly foes in a climactic confrontation that will determine their city's fate once and for all. It's all told in BATMAN FOREVER!

Costume designer Bob Ringwood and his team created all the costumes for the cast of batman forever, including the armor-like Batman and Robin outfits. Below, Batman stunt doubles did some of the action scenes, but Val Kilmer also had to deliver a lot of the punches.

TWO-FACE / HARVEY DENT

TOMMY LEE JONES

Two years ago he won an Oscar for his role as the tough marshall in THE FUGITIVE. In 1995, he is the man with the best makeup in Hollywood. Tommy Lee Jones has been described as "an actor's actor," and is one of the screen's most heralded and versatile stars. He comes to the role of Harvey Dent/Two-Face after a string of high-profile recent appearances in THE CLIENT, COBB, HEAVEN AND EARTH and NATURAL BORN KILLERS. When Joel Schumacher tapped him to be Two-Face, Jones knew he was in for a wild ride on the set. He says he relished it. "It's been a lot of fun!" Jones says. "And I like the scale of this movie, which is HUGE. If a movie gets bigger than this, it's a mistake, and this is not a mistake."

BATMAN/ BRUCE WAYNE

VAL KILMER

Val Kilmer has built his movie career playing characters that are larger than life, so stepping into the cape and cowl of the Dark Knight for BATMAN FOREVER isn't too big a stretch.

His portrayals of rock idol Jim Morrison in THE DOORS and gunfighter Doc Holliday in TOMBSTONE both stunned audiences. Still, he says he doesn't take his role as the celluloid incarnation of Batman lightly. "In a way, this is the first Batman story, in that we're really taking on all of the beginnings of it, like how Robin comes into the story," he says. "In Bob Kane's Batman comics, he came in to the story because Bruce Wayne witnessed this kid suffer the exact same traumatic experience that created Batman and that he's living virtually every day."
